

Medals and Awards 2008

● HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN has approved the award of the ROYAL MEDALS as follows:

Founder's Medal

Professor Julian Dowdeswell

(for the encouragement, development and promotion of glaciology)

Patron's Medal

Professor Jesse Walker

(for the encouragement, development and promotion of coastal geomorphology)

● THE SOCIETY'S COUNCIL has made the following awards:

Victoria Medal

Professor Linda McDowell

(for research in socio-economic and feminist geography)

Busk Medal

Tamotsu Nakamura

(for field exploration in the mountain ranges of west China and Tibet)

Murchison Award

Professor Neil Wrigley

(for publications on the economic geography of retail and consumption)

Back Award

Professor Richard Black

(for research contributing to public policy on migration, refugees and development)

Gill Memorial Award

Dr Rachel Pain

(for contributions to social geography and participatory research)

Ordnance Survey Awards
(two awards)

Louise Ellis

Alan Parkinson

(for excellence in teaching geography at secondary level)

Taylor & Francis Award

Professor Michael Bradford

(for excellence in teaching and learning in geography in higher education)

Ness Award

David Wright

(for the popularisation of geography among young people)

Alfred Steers Dissertation Prize

Hugh Wright

(for the undergraduate geography dissertation judged to be the best in 2007)

Luke Studden

(for a highly commended dissertation)

Area Prize

Jessica Graybill

(for the best published article in the journal by a new researcher)

Honorary Fellowship
(two awards)

Lord Chorley

Lord Mark Fitzalan Howard

(for outstanding services to the Society)